

Supporters

Reasons for signing

- Most Popular
- Latest

- john O'Brien AUSTRALIA
- 8 days ago

- Like
- 0
- The reason they effect people is the products are made from combustion waste,you can't fix them they are toxic waste, the products produced are toxic, there is no common grounds for the concern of safety, the Doctor's won't diagnos the dangers associated, they credit the chemicals as real good money spinners and prefer to protect them.

- john O'Brien AUSTRALIA
- 8 days ago

- Like
- 0
- I am a chemical victim! If I am in the vicinity where pyrethroids are sprayed I react with anxiety and temper abuse towards the user, I also break out with blisters forming in the mouth, eyes and nose, losing 4kg of weight over the next 24 hrs. I also have 24 pairs of chromosomes (4 mutant) and a fully blown tolerance.

- Carla Stewart CHARLESTON, IL
- 11 days ago

- Like
- 0
- Because all the chemicals we use on our body soaks into our blood stream affecting our health. These are foreign substances and should not be used. Because of things like this, I have stopped purchasing products like this and have got back to natural things to use.

- Marjorie Gray TEMPE, AZ
- 11 days ago

- Like
- 0
- Scented products, ranging from cleaning solutions to personal products, including "air fresheners", give me debilitating migraines. I have five children that need me to take care of them and it's very hard to when I cannot go to the store without suffering from a migraine because of the fragrance I encounter from people, air fresheners, cleaners, and the products themselves.

- VICTORIA PEARLSTEIN COLORADO SPRINGS, CO
- 11 days ago

- Like
- 0
- I am no longer able to work because there are no places without perfumed cleaners or where fellow workers do not use products with perfumes. I get migraines within hours of exposure and am then unable to function. I have been on disability for nearly 10 years as a result.

- Robert snyder ENGLEWOOD, FL
- 12 days ago

- Like 0

I and Carolyn Bonner in my house get migraine headaches from our neighbors fragrances coming out of their dryer vents.

● Pat Carson XYZ, UNITED KINGDOM

○ 15 days ago

○ Like
0

These additives that are making people very ill should be banned. It is only the marketing people who think they are 'great'!

● Tracey Gold SPAIN

○ 22 days ago

○ Like
0

I too suffer from multiple chemical sensitivities and cannot use or go near anything scented without risking anaphylactic shock.

● Yvonne Magnia HANFORD, CA

○ 23 days ago

○ Like
0

Because I am sensitive to perfumes and smells and get headaches from these smells. Also it triggers an allergic reaction in my husband which is horrible.

● Gerry Straatemeier TUCSON, AZ

○ 23 days ago

○ Like
0

I have chemical sensitivities - my throat closes up when someone comes in the house wearing scented deodorant or I go into a bathroom in someone's house with scented soap or strong cleaners. I have to go outside, regardless the weather. PLEASE please do something about this.

● Sara Holly McClenahan WOODINVILLE, WA

○ 23 days ago

○ Like
0

My brother has suffered 57 years of this. Why are you poisoning us?

● Jill Iwaskow BOULDER, CO

○ 24 days ago

○ Like
0

I get super sick from scented products - literally makes me homebound

● Becky Rhodes TOMBALL, TX

○ 24 days ago

○ Like
0

I have a sister that is chemically sensitive and I would appreciate if more accomadations were made for her and others who suffer with this illness. Thanks!

● Carissa Hiebert VICTORIA, CANADA

○ 25 days ago

☐

Like

☐

I'm tired of being sick and tired. Having to go home from work due to people's scents. Having to leave public places because of scents. Enough already. It's toxic.

●

Stephen Schull TUCSON, AZ

☐

26 days ago

☐

Like

☐

I know many people that are bothered by every-day exposure to scented products, and would like to see their manufacture and use banned by government.

●

Chung Pierce TUCSON, AZ

☐

26 days ago

☐

Like

☐

Over powering scent from Tide detergent through dryer vent make me so sick and other scented products by grocery isles, so much more to mention, it's like poison gas to me, each time exposure to those scents, I become ill. Can you imagine how those chemical scents can affect infants, children, and elderly frail people, those poisonous chemical scents are not necessary to clean laundry and households.

●

RUTH REINDEL MORRISON, CO

☐

27 days ago

☐

Like

☐

I HAVE ASHMA AND IT FLARES WHEN EXPOSED TO MOST SENTED PRODUCTS,ESPECIALLY FABRIC SOFTENERS, ROOM DEODORIZERE, AND LAUNDRY SOAPS. I CAN HOLD MY BREATH BUT ONLY SO LONG, SO THAT IS NOT THE ANSWER. MOST SENTS THAT ARE ADDED TO PRODUCTS IRRITATE THE MUCUS MEMBRAIN OF ABOUT 20% OF THE POPULATION.

●

Joseph Berkeley STOWE, PA

☐

27 days ago

☐

Like

☐

This needs to stop, it is killing us

●

Jade Beaty LONGMONT, CO

☐

28 days ago

☐

Like

☐

I am chemically sensitive to products with petroleum based ingredients. People don't think they are being impacted, but all of this adds to each person's toxic load, and more and more people are becoming sicker. Many don't know why. We must start reducing toxics wherever we can, because there are some that will be here forever.

●

Sheryl Senkiw MINNEAPOLIS, MN

☐

28 days ago

☐

Like

☐

Most people don't want there clothes to smell like anything, they just want them clean. For many people, the added fragrances make us acutely sick. Just take the fragrances out.

●

Joanne Goldbaum COLORADO SPRINGS, CO

☐

28 days ago

☐

Like

Fragrances make me sick. I know that even a trip to the grocery store will leave me with a migraine. People do not know that these fragrances are pollutants, and they are impossible to avoid. It is great marketing to sell products, but many people suffer because the fragrances are ubiquitous and cannot be avoided.

nicole leskin WEST LAWN, PA

28 days ago

Like

My child is sick with some thing called FPIES and she is affected by everything....aveno has oats and well she is allergist to oat. Plus a close friend has a child with a chemical sensitivity...

Megan Short SINKING SPRING, PA

28 days ago

Like

My son was born with multiple chemical sensitivity.

Jean Robertson O BRIEN, OR

28 days ago

Like

Fragrance of any kind gives me chest pains and difficulty breathing. It is as bad, if not worse, of a poison as second hand tobacco smoke. We must rid our lives of this unnecessary poison!

bruce shisler DURANGO, CO

28 days ago

Like

i am horrifically chemically sensitive because of proctor and gamble and others...i not only avoid the body care and laundry detergent isles in stores...i practice in store sabotoge against these products, costing the stores thousands of dollars per year all over durango...i am part of a group of several hundred people who do the same...30% of americans hate this crap...we play for keeps...we breathe or they make fortunes...we're going to breate and dance on their graves and bankruptcy litigation

JOANNE IRICE HUNT, TX

28 days ago

Like

FRAGRANCES CAUSE A HEADACHE, FLU-LIKE SYMPTOMS AND MUSCLE PAIN

Linda Herrick WINTER HAVEN, FL

28 days ago

Like

My sister suffers terribly from your scented products and I am occasionally allergic to them myself.

Margaret Cunningham LAGUNA HILLS, CA

29 days ago

Like

I worked at a company and their policy was NO perfumes, lotions, aftershave, hair spray etc. At the mere whiff of a fragrance scent, a couple of employees would start exhibiting symptoms (migraines) and would have to go home. This was a very real reaction, which made me more aware of my surroundings. I have developed a sensitivity and cannot walk down the soap aisle and also get headaches with VOC fumes. I support this petition.

● Tony Lewis AUSTRALIA

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

I have MCS and face a daily struggle with the ghastly and overpowering odours of personal cosmetic products (mens and womens), laundry product smells permeating everything at the supermarket and the residue of it in clothes of other people, ubiquitous cleaning products being marketed on a hyped up and unhealthy fear of germs, evil smelling liquid hand soaps and the like. Have lost employment on a few occasions on account of personal products other people are wearing. It's time for this to be recognized and companies making these products to become accountable for the distress and problems they are causing to some of us.

● Judith Craddock FLORENCE, OR

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

My life has been extremely negatively impacted by fragrances in products for well over 40 years. I lead a forced-isolation life. I can no longer travel, stay in hotels, even enjoy some restaurants due to the effects that so-called every-day fragrances in cleaners, air fresheners, detergents, perfumed products, etc. that inundate the air and make the world a toxic place. I have to ask my family, my friends, my medical care-givers to refrain from using fragranced products, which often has the effect of alienation. PLEASE protect and respect all of us. Please eliminate fragrances in your products. My body has become so hyper-vigilant to smells that I cannot even enjoy fragranced flowers. I am told by my Environmental physicians that this is a normal result ... strong smells=fight or flight response... totally uncontrollable by the human brain.

● Lisa Watt AUSTRALIA

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

I suffer with chemical sensitivities and my day to day life is affected by anyone I encounter wearing or using scented products .

● Chris Furedy DARLING PT, AUSTRALIA

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

I've been chemically sensitive for over 20 years. Fragrances have become more and more bothersome. Some are very long lasting indeed. Recently I found an old bottle of perfume from the early 1970s and ventured a sniff -no problem at all. Let's turn back the clock.

Chris

● Ann Want BONVILLE NSW 2450, AUSTRALIA

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

Artificially scented/fragranced products seem to be adversely affecting the vast majority of people I know. Their reactions vary from mild irritation to severe symptoms depending upon the individual. It appears you are in the minority if you are not affected by them. I am observing many children who are also affected and in many cases have no say to what they are exposed to.

● ian reilly NORTHCOTE, AUSTRALIA

○ 29 days ago

○ Like
0

I have multiple chemical problems because I lived next to a coal mine and power station

- Landage Wickramasinghe

OAKFLATS, NSW, AUSTRALIA

○

29 days ago

○

Like

0

"Making many people sick".This is a HYPOBOLI.These floating toxic chemicals are carcinogens or pro- carcinogens. cancer rate to-day is one in two.The cause is multifactorial and and these man made cheicals are contributory in a big way. The users experiance ephemeral gratification and the manufacturersare REWARDED with zillions of dollars.I have witnessed this tragedy in my many years of proessional life.

●

glenys smith

AUSTRALIA

○

29 days ago

○

Like

0

Yes i am tied of wearing a mask in the shops and having people and kids staring and laughing at me.

●

Sturt Halcrow

AUSTRALIA

○

29 days ago

○

Like

0

1/My Health 2/ The health of my children and grandchildren 3/The long lasting health of future generations 4/ Our health is much more valuable then making a quick $$$ 5/ To help force these manufactures to do unto others as they wish for themselves. They / You like us have the wisdom to know the difference Please use it.

●

Elizabeth Arnott

AUSTRALIA

○

30 days ago

○

Like

0

It's time that manufacturers and the like realise that "natural" scents, perfumes does not mean safe nor to we need these products to "cover up" a bad smell.

●

Natalie Bosman

AUSTRALIA

○

30 days ago

○

Like

0

I have MCS and it is hell

●

Susie Zent

GIPPSLAND, AUSTRALIA

○

30 days ago

○

Like

0

I suffer from severe multiple chemical sensitivities

●

Julie Rosiere

AUSTRALIA

○

30 days ago

○

Like

0

Prevented from attending movie theatres etc due to severe reaction to scented products worn by both men and women.

●

Noel Falk

FORRESTFIELD, AUSTRALIA

○

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

I like the smell of perfume, and I don't categorize them as toxic, out of hand. But perfumes, in general, affect me physically. Sometimes quite badly. I wish they didn't.

●

Marjorie Wilkins AUSTRALIA

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

I am an MCS sufferer and fragrances affect me badly. Walking into shops is now so difficult.

●

Cheryl Bowler THORNLANDS, AUSTRALIA

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

My children and I have MCS. Synthetic fragrances are hormone disrupting, leading to many serious conditions including cancer. Our children deserve better

●

Jane Robertson STUARTS POINT, AUSTRALIA

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

I have a chemical sensitivity to a lot of chemicals

●

Kathi Petersen BRIDGEWATER, CANADA

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

I have had Environmental Illness for 30+ years. It would be wonderful not to have to encounter these products!! But more than that, more and more people are getting ill because of things like this ... Surely it is time to stop poisoning ourselves and our children!

●

Laurel LaLonde NAPERVILLE, IL

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

This is important to me because I get dizzy, brain fog, respiratory problems and migraines from scented products. It is very difficult for me to go to public functions and these long lasting scents are making things worse.

●

Anne Williams WILLIAMSBURG, VA

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

The responsible thing to do

●

Nancy Fisher SOUTH LYON, MI

☐

30 days ago

☐

Like

0

I have been chemically sensitive for over 2 years now, following exposure to new carpeting/glue in my workplace. I have since lost my job, my ability to support myself financially and the list of items I am sensitive to has grown. This includes highly scented products such as fabric softeners, air fresheners and conventional cleaning products. My symptoms are primarily cognitive and neurological in nature and occur fairly quickly upon exposure.

I can only hope that the manufacturers of these products are listening to those of us who are suffering since we are clearly reacting to something. Although, we clearly have a reduced threshold for synthetic fragrances and chemicals, it is telling that the human body is not engineered to detoxify them and they cannot be healthy for any of us.

● Sue Wang BOULDER, CO

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

I healed from MCS. It was awful to not get away from people who use the perfumed products; and finding affordable non-natural things I needed.

● Carrie Young WINTHROP, ME

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

I also am chronically ill because of all the fragrances and chemicals in our environment. Check out my website on the topic: www.ThinkBeforeYouStink.com.

● Gloria Torelli MILLVILLE, NJ

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

I have trigeminal neuralgia and the chemicals in these fragranced products cause a great deal of pain for me every time I encounter them. They are neuro-inflammatory and instantly cause pain in the right side of my head and migraines.

● Elaine Day TUCSON, AZ

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

Because the chemicals and scents make me very ill since I have a weakened immune system.

● Larry Day TUCSON, AZ

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

My wife is very sensitive to fragrances, so much so that I have to change clothes and shower when I come home from anywhere there are scented products

● Jerold Block SANTA MONICA, CA

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

People have a right to know what they're being exposed to.

● Clay Olson SANTA CRUZ, CA

○ about 1 month ago

○ Like
0

I, unlike most folks, still have full sensitivity in my 65 year-old nose.

● Peggy Yost WHITTIER, CA

○ about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

Because my friend is sick from toxic cleaners

●

Elmer Burk TUCSON, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

Since 1996, I have been providing care giving for my dear wife Rita, who was chemically injured. Since that time, she has had to live as a "bubble lady" confined to our home. She is severely affected by all the product fragrances that seem to be getting worse. It is time to hold the fragrance producing manufacturers accountable and ask for their help in correcting this problem.

●

Gerry Straatemeier TUCSON, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

I am sensitive to many chemicals, most cleaners (vinegar works fine) makes my throat close up, very scary.

●

Paulann Sternberg SAN FRANCISCO, CA

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

the scope of my "comfort zone" (places where I can go without risk of getting ill from toxic perfumes and scents) keeps shrinking. I can't go into or use a public laundrymat. I can't go near aisles in supermarkets or drug stores that have laundry products, scented candles, bath items, etc. If my neighbor is doing her laundry I can't keep my window open. I often have to change seats in a theater, airplane or restaurant due to strong perfumes, colognes, etc. The way these scents affect me is my eyes start burning, my sinuses start pounding, I get a sore throat and nauseous.

●

CChristy White CAVE CREEK, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

Because my twin brothers get headaches when people they are around use these products. And I don't need my clothing smelling like dryer sheets...clean clothing is a nice enough smell!

●

Gregory Penniston TUCSON, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

I am chemically sensitive.

●

Bill White TUCSON, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

Why is this imFINALLY! Thank you, Rebecca, for initiating this. I am a 57 yo male and have been assaulted for far too many years by these chemical fragrances. Treatment has cost over $10,000. I avoid chemicals like the plague—malls, hugs from friends, cruises, fancy parties, you name it. My neighbors don't quite understand why I'm such a crank about the dryer sheets. I bought one box off of them because the smell was just atrocious. Just touching the box had my fingers smelling awful. I told them to consider what it would be like for someone to spray bug spray in their house. That's about what this stuff does to me. I am finally healthy from avoiding most chemicals. However, I abhor the stuff. Thank you, thank you for getting the word out.portant to you?

●

Pam Gill SAN FRANCISCO, CA

○

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

We need to get products changed or off the market when they cause allergic problems of such proportions.

●

Mary Ann Tilford TUCSON, AZ

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

I don't have the level of chemical sensitivity that a lot of my friends do, but I cannot even use my own back yard on days when my neighbor does laundry. The "fragrance" (i.e., overwhelming stink) from the dryer sheets gives me an instant migraine which lasts 36 hours. I can't even hang my own clothing out because the scent sticks to them and then I have to wash them over again.

I can't seem to find ANYTHING that doesn't have some kind of stink added to it; what happened to Nature? Not fake nature, real, live Nature? There is no reason to fill the natural air with all these chemical smells, and they cannot be good for us. I don't get headaches in the forest or at the beach; I only get them when I have to smell this stuff. Please stop polluting the indoor environment with these noxious chemicals!! Do you know how many products I don't buy, that I would like to buy, but I can't because they all have some kind of "fragrance" in them that gives me a headache?

●

Judy Taylor FREMONT, CA

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

Scents make me sick! Stop poisoning us with the scents.

●

Janice Veres COLORADO SPRINGS, CO

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

Chemical scents are detrimental to my health. I'm allergic to them. They are not healthy for anyone and especially bad for those with a respiratory illness.

●

Keith Williams NORTHGLEN, CO

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

I am chemically sensitive to the toxic chemicals in "fragrance". These chemicals should not be protected from disclosure by trade secret laws, and should be required to be proven non toxic before being allowed to be used in commercial products. Many chemicals found in fragranced products have been isolated and identified through scientific methodology as substances known to be toxic to humans.

●

sam celeste MICANOPY, FL

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

i am crippled by MCS and the consumer world is ignorant and unwilling to attend to crucial facts of safety and health.

●

Sally Rogers COTTONWOOD, CA

☐

about 1 month ago

☐

Like

☐

I'm extremely allergic to all fragrances and perfumes. Exposure causes severe joint pain in my hands, arms and feet, and destroys my ability to think, speak, and understand.

●

Clare Brady NEW MILFORD, CT

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
0

I was made ill by exposure to fragrances and other chemicals in cleaning products about 20 years ago. The "fragrances" have become so strong and persistent that I now have to work from home and cannot go to any public place because of the ubiquitous presence of these powerful scents. I can't even stay overnight with my elderly parents, who live three hours away, even though they keep a fragrance-free home, because of the contamination of beds, couches, and other furniture from others' scented clothing. Everyone is now in agreement that smokers don't have a right to pollute non-smokers' air; it's time to admit that the same applies to fragrances. The pleasure that someone derives from inhaling a scent should not take precedence over another person's right to clean air and healthy working and living environments.

● teresa calouche MONTREAL, CANADA

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
2

I am chemically sensitive and have to avoid cleaning chemicals, perfumes, air fresheners and the like. It would be a thrill to not have to encounter these toxins when shopping, in restaurants and public bathrooms!

● Dr. Sandra Ross MILL VALLEY, CA

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
0

10 years ago the % of people reporting chemical sensitivities in to California State survey was 17. Other states reported up to 34%. There is a big market

● david greenberg MONROVIA, CA

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
0

My wife is one of these hyper sensitive persons. i can see the ongoing misery see experiences when exposed to unnecessary irritants.

● Betty Kreeger MT SHASTA, CA

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
2

Because for more than 20 years I personally have been assaulted and made ill by these products. It is time for these companies to be accountable for the poisoning of the population.

● J Gwen Ingram DEXTER, OR

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
0

I am one of the people who gets sick — sometimes severely — from artificially-scented products.

● Julie Michel MOUNT PLEASANT, WI

☐ about 1 month ago

☐ Like
0

I have multiple chemical sensitivity and asthma. Fragrances make me sick and trigger my asthma.

● Alice Boyd TORRANCE, CA

☐ about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

The fragrances that are in everything these days make me sick on a daily basis. It's getting difficult just to work or shop. If they can keep people from smoking they should be able to outlaw toxic fragrances, as they are even worse than second-hand smoke.

●

gretchen kurtenacker SEATTLE, WA

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

Nearly everyone I know is bothered by modern fragranced products. While only few of us have serious life altering chemical sensitivities, many many others claim that they get headaches or dislike modern fragrances and fragranced products. Obviously enough people buy the things that corporations still mfr them. Yet clearly there is a trend- the world wants greener less toxic products and any smart savvy corporation will get ahead of the curve by discontinuing toxic fragranced products and marketing safer, healthier ones.

●

Carol Harris DUNNELLON, FL

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

I have chemical sensitivity and I have to wear a mask when I go into any store.

●

Debbie Simpson SWANSEA, IL

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

Most chemical fragrances have a negative impact on my body and my brain. Within minutes my muscles get tight, I get brain fog, emotional and fatigued with difficulty concentrating. I can go from feeling wonderful to miserable just being in a room where someone used a highly scented laundry product or room 'freshener'. Essential oils (natural fragrances) never cause these issues. My family finds it difficult to find products they can use just to be able to visit me.

●

Diana Day ROCKPORT, ME

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

I hate the smell of artificial perfumes and intuitively know they are unhealthy. Everyone is affected by these nasty chemicals, whether they know it or not. They are not healthy for anyone and it is only a matter of time before they are going to be outlawed.

●

sherry clark BAKERSVILLE, NC

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

I suffer with migraines;dizziness and fatigue when exposed to scented air fresheners; Lysol or heavy perfumed products. I would like to see less deadly chemicals in these products. They make me so sick for days and sometimes for weeks.

●

Ellen Bryant EUREKA, CA

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

I'm highly allergic to these Chemical scents... One woman told me she wasn't wearing perfume, it was her "shampooooooo"; her odor gave me the shakes and serious heart papitations... I feel sorry for babies and animals that can't complain or get away from the Chemical odors.... I wonder if some babies die or develop asthma from the aircrap>?

●

Faith Chapman COLUMBUS, IN

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

These scents make me very sick. I can't go into a gro. store without having to take a pocket full of kleenex. I have to hurry out. I want to enjoy my shopping trips and my life without getting sick.

●

T Takahashi DENVER, CO

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

All these products make me sick, I get migraines, they irritate my allergies. I sometimes buy things from eBay and it takes several washings in Seventh Generation to get the god-damn smell out! Stop with the sickening fragrances in more and more products. Polluting the air, water and all living beings is not cool!

●

nicolette modica SOUND BEACH, NY

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

2

This is important because I too have MCS. My symptoms from smelling perfume/cologne, scented lotions, scented laundry detergents, scented liquid fabric softeners and scented dryer sheets all of these trigger severe allergiv reactions. They range from stomach problems, runny nose, tingling of the lips/tongue, sores in the mouth, bad migraines and my hands sometimes shake and I get brain fog. So please do something to take out these harmful chemicals that are making so many of us sick! Thank you!

●

Sue Bush BISBEE, AZ

○

about 1 month ago

○

Like

0

I get dizzy when I walk into the bank, power company or stores that use scent and air fresheners. Then, i have a headache for a couple days after.

News

Add News

Keep your supporters engaged with a news update.